CITY COUNCIL TO RUSH WORK ON CENTRAL AVENUE EXTENSION

Plan to Beautify the City Gets Support from Legion And Chamber of Commerce

More Organizations Take Up "Plant Wistaria" Slogan and Favor Fall Flower Show As Community Project

The slogan of "A Wistaria Vine in Every Door Yard" was enthusiastically endorsed this week by two more civic organizations—the Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion.

Both adopted resolutions pledging their whole-hearted support in the movement launched by the Woman's Club to develop to the highest degree Sierra Madre's outstanding characteristic, and to begin now the preparation of the city for next year's Wistaria Fete by the planting of bulbs, shrubs and perennials designed to make the city riotously colorful while the admiring thousands are here in the Spring.

To further stimulate interest in the plan to make a "Beautiful Sierra Madre even more beautiful,"
the Garden Section of the Woman's Club at a meeting on Wednesday afternoon formally decided upon the holding of a Fall Flower Festival, which calls for the immediate planting of annuals, the cultivation of extraordinarily fine specimens of flowers and the general beautification of the gardens and therefore the whole city.

Legion Sees Benefit

The American Legion at its meeting on Monday night unanimously commended the Woman's Club program by the adoption of the following:

Whereas, The Woman's Club of Sierra Madre has inaugurated a campaign for a "City Beautiful," involving the planting of wistaria vines to make more attractive every home in the city, the cleaning up of fields and vacant lots, the planting of wild flowers therein and along the approaches to the city and the holding of a flower show in Sierra Madre
the coming fall,

Resolved: That this organization, mindful of the fact that the proposal contemplates the further spreading of this city's fame as the garden spot of Southern California and a nation-wide advertising of its unexampled advantages as an ideal home city, hereby readily agrees to render the fullest co-operation to guarantee the successful carrying out of this commendable activity.

Means City's Growth

Upon the election of Robert J.
Davies to the presidency of the Chamber of Commerce that body unanimously adopted the following resolution:

Whereas, There is under way in Sierra Madre a campaign, initiated by the Woman's Club, to encourage the planting of wistaria vines in the yards of every home and the beautifying of all vacant places and the approaches on the main highways with wild flowers, for the purpose of further enhancing the luxuriant appeal of our city,

Resolved: That the Chamber of Commerce, in grateful appreciation of the untold advantages such a campaign must bring to our city in growth of population and increased business, hereby approves the proposal and gives promise of its fullest support.

The date and details for the holding of the Flower Festival will be discussed at a later meeting of the Garden section of the Woman's Club, of which Mrs. A.
A. Halsey is chairman.

This event is to be a community project in every respect and will be competitive in some of its features. Prizes will be given for the best gardens, cut flowers, most perfect bloomers, etc. Announcements of this time in order that those in the community wishing to take part, might avail themselves of the opportunity and begin their planting now for the best fall results.

Flower Festival Plans

The Garden section also asks that anyone having extra plants, seeds, bulbs, cuttings, etc., save these, and if willing to donate them for a sale which will be conducted during the flower show.
Everyone is urged to enter into the spirit and start to perfect their gardens and flowers now.

The section also urges everyone with a vacant lot to consider having them cleared now by plowing and harrowing rather than wait until the weeds have become fire hazards and must be removed by burning. It was pointed out that this latter method is more dangerous, expensive, and generally results in the destruction of many fine trees and shrubs.

A statement was submitted setting forth that C. E. Trimble (Red 312) and S. K. Lesley (Green
132) are willing to give a special price for the plowing of two or more lots in a district when the homeholders arrange to have the work done at the same time.

In June of each year the city requires that all vacant lots be cleared of tall grass and weeds.

New Honor Is Thrust Upon 'Bob' Davies

Unanimously Elected President of the Chamber of Commerce

Robert J. ("Bob") Davies is the new President of Sierra Madre's Chamber of Commerce.
He was unanimously elected to the position at this week's meeting. Having been elected vice-president at the annual election last December, he has been active head since the resignation of Joe R. Eastwood, who left the city to become the publisher of an Eagle Rock newspaper.

Born in Pittsburgh, Pa., Mr.
Davies came to California in 1909.
After two years in San Francisco he went to Los Angeles where he was associated with Barker Bros.

ROBERT J. DAVIES

in the drapery department. He came to Sierra Madre in 1923
and entered the grocery business with M. D. Welsher. For the past two years he has been a partner in the firm of Solury and Davies,
at Baldwin and Central avenues.
Mr. Davies has been vitally interested in civic matters ever since his arrival in Sierra Madre.
He is also president of the Retail Merchants' Association and a member of the Masonic order.

Daniel McNamara New Chief Justice of Pasa Junior Hi

By HAROLD KELTZ

By a majority of 125 votes Dan
McNamara, of 358 Grove avenue, Sierra Madre, was elected to the office of Chief Justice of the Pasadena junior college at Wednesday's school election, defeating his fellow Sierra Madiran, Charlton Schwartz.

"Dan" is taking a leading part in the affairs of the school. He holds the Southern California wrestling championship for his weight this year, is an honor student and is a member of the Order of Mast and Dagger, honorary service organization of the college.

In the race for student body president, James Scott won easily.
Fannie Arnold won the position of president of women, and Don Matson was elected president of men.

Arnold Huss, editor of the year book, was chosen for senior representative, and Myrta Olmstead was elected sophomore representative.

MOTHER'S DAY

By MARY WARD

As Mother's Day comes round again
All mothers are enshrined.
And to our own, on this, her day
O may the Fates be kind.

'Twas she who held us on her breast
And cradled us from harm.
The memory of her tenderness
Still holds a fragrant charm.

Today we bring her roses,
And blooms of heaven's hue.
Midst yours I'll twine, O mother mine,
A reverent thought of you.

(Mrs. Ward, author of "Vagrant Thoughts," a volume that has found its way all over the land, which is a part of nearly every library here, and which pictures Sierra Madre with all the charm and beauty that attaches to it, is a leading member of the city's considerable art colony, and the above poem dedicated to

MIRA MONTE, NOW SHIPPEY HOME, BUILT BY NOTED NORMAN BRIDGE, WAS ONCE HOST TO EUGENE FIELD

Famous Doctor Came Here to Die and Left to Start
Life Anew

Lee Shippey, famed columnist, may find inspiration if he can commune with some of the spirits wandering around the Mira Monte hotel, on Auburn avenue, which he was forced to rent to house his family while his own home is being moved to Neher drive.

Many celebrities of the past found a haven under the Mira Monte roof, beginning with Dr.
Norman Bridge, who built it, the inimitable Eugene Field, Bob Burdette, Melville Stone, Robert Lincoln, son of the martyred president, and a score of others who by their genius became chapters in the history of America.

Dr. Bridge, in the middle span of life, came to Sierra Madre from Chicago in the early nineties to die. In three years the climate, the water, his garden,
the restful, exhilarating atmosphere of his surroundings, made a new man of him. His presence here served as a magnet to draw to Sierra Madre many distinguished persons of the day. Dr.
Bridge moved to Pasadena and founded California Tech. Reinvigorated, he became a dominant figure in the medical profession,
and as vice president of the Pan American Petroleum and Transportation Company, was active in developing the oil industry in California.

Fairy Spot of Romance

Dr. Bridge led a strenuous life up until his death at seventy-five.
He wrote forty books and essays
on all sorts of subjects.

Field did not come to Sierra Madre to stay until after Dr.
Bridge turned the house over to O. F. Sprague, a former Chicago merchant, and old friend of both men. The night before Field came down from San Francisco by train
there had been a train robbery, and when he went to bed he put a sign on the curtain of his berth reading "Spare a poor widow."

In his book, "The Marching Years," the late Dr. Bridge tells of coming to California in 1894, and the selection of Sierra Madre for his home because "it seemed a fairy spot of romance to us."
He built the house, now known as the Mira Monte hotel, and moved into it before Thanksgiving.
For three years he had said jocularly to a companion, "I should like to be just sick enough sometime to be compelled to come to California to live." When he arrived he was a sick man, apparently doomed by the white plague he had been fighting so hard against in saving others.

"Dropping my professional work, becoming perhaps a permanent invalid," he wrote afterward, "it appeared to be a just inflation for my sinful speech—but withstood the glory of that winter sunshine and my returning health."

"Lucky" Baldwin's Rage

Dr. Bridge became president of the water company of Sierra Madre and entered into a dispute over water rights with "Lucky" Baldwin. Three lawsuits grew out of it, all of which were finally decided in favor of the company.
It was later that Baldwin, declaring that he would "fix Sierra Madre," so that it would never again, gave to Arcadia the strip running along Live Oak avenue, which hems in the city on the south.

Irish Tales Grew

"A certain Irishman whom I barely knew by sight lived in Sierra Madre," wrote Dr. Bridge.
"He conducted people up the mountain trails by horse or burro-back. Some of his tales grew from month to month. He frequently entertained friends of mine from the East who would inquire if he knew me. 'Sure, I know him,' he would say. 'I helped take him off the train on a stretcher.' When asked if I got well he would say 'He did.
It was the whiskey and the climate that did it.'"

Dr. Bridge's eggheads were given national fame by Mayor Carter Harrison, of Chicago, who visited him here.

'Not Guilty,' Pleads Girl To Shortage

Mrs. Marie McArthur Answers Indictment and Gives $5000 Bail

Mrs. Marie McArthur, formerly deputy city clerk of Sierra Madre, appeared before Judge Walton J.
Wood, in the Superior Court, Los Angeles, yesterday and pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging her with embezzling funds of the City Water Department. The indictment specifically notes $341.85, but it is alleged that the auditor's report disclosed a shortage of $1429.

In the indictment Mrs. Mc-Arthur, who was in the city clerk's office for seven years, is alleged to have diverted the money to her own use, during the early part of 1929, and with altering the books to cover it up. She was held for trial before Judge Carlos Hardy, on July 1st.

Mrs. McArthur gave bail of $5,000 following her indictment by the grand jury a week ago. She was represented in court by Attorney George Glover. There are six counts in the indictment.

Until a few weeks ago Mrs.
McArthur resided in Sierra Madre.
She left her position in the city hall after the recall election nearly a year ago, when Elmer A.
Green became city clerk. She left here a month ago ostensibly to visit a sister in Honolulu.

112,854 People, Or 95.9 Percent, Is Township's Growth

PASADENA Township has a population of 112,854, a gain of 55,241, or 95.9 per cent, over the 1920 and last census figure of 57,613, Census Supervisor Chenoweth of Glendale announced Wednesday.

The announcement disclosed that Altadena has a population of 17,957; Lamanda Park, 8044;
Santa Anita, 2069; Mt. Lowe, 103; and Linda Vista, 91. They,
with Pasadena, Sierra Madre and Arcadia, whose population figures were previously announced, make up Pasadena township.

Mrs. Kathleen Lockhart Manning

Local Girl Sells Opera To New York

Kathleen Lockhart Summed to Metropolitan for Hearing of Work

Mrs. Kathleen Lockhart Manning, a Sierra Madre girl, is on her way to New York to accept an honor never before conferred on a woman. She has been summoned to appear by the Metropolitan Opera Company for hearing of her own opera,
Mr. Wu.

Mrs. Manning is the daughter of Mrs. Otis Lockhart, of Cypress Court. She lives at present at 2811 Westshire drive, Los Angeles, but while a resident of Sierra Madre she composed sixty songs, all of which have been published.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Lockhart bought property in Sierra Madre seventeen years ago. Their daughter Kathleen from her earliest childhood showed a fondness for music. In 1908 she went to Paris to study and before she was twenty-one made her debut in Covent Garden, London. At that time she knew perfectly the roles of twenty-two operas. Sixteen of these roles she could take on only three hours' notice.

After her return to the United States and her marriage to E. E.
Manning, she reluctantly gave up all thought of an operatic career and turned to composition. She was eminently successful in this work.

"She will be gone for some time now," said her mother. "In a letter I received yesterday, she said that she isn't still a minute.
Once when I was in New York with her, she sat down after a day's work and wrote a song, and then went out to a party at nine o'clock. She told me she could just hear the song. She just had to write it."

"Now remember what I told you at first," Mrs. Lockhart finished. "Whatever you write about her, don't say anything about me.
I'm just her mother."

Reception to Honor Artists Showing in The Little Gallery

In honor of the artists whose work is represented in the new showings at the Little Art Gallery, an informal reception will be held at that place on Sunday,
May 11, from 2:30 to 5 p. m.
The public is cordially invited to take advantage of this unusual opportunity to meet the artists whose work is exciting the interest of connoisseurs all over South-

New Boulevard to City Will Bring Rapid Growth Says Leader in the Project

J. O. Smith, Head of Central Avenue Association, Tells How Improvement Is Bound to Attract Many Desirable Citizens Here

(The City Council, at its next meeting, will probably pass an ordinance of intention for the widening and extension of Central Avenue.
Every citizen of Sierra Madre who has given the subject any thought at all, knows that this improvement will have a very great effect upon the city and its future. The first of a series of articles by well known citizens on just what this effect will be, in their judgment, is offered herewith)

By J. O. SMITH

President Central Avenue Improvement Assn.

After years of earnest effort on the part of many of our citizens and our present capable city officials, plans are now about completed which will give us a modern east and west highway leading into the Pasadena district.

This boulevard to be created by the widening and extension of Central avenue will open a gateway into Sierra Madre from the west which will put our city on the map, and its beauty and importance will be appreciated by all those who visit us.

The drive from Pasadena into Sierra Madre over this new boulevard will be one of the most picturesque and scenic in all Southern California.

This great improvement so economically worked out, together with the building of our fine new school, will cause many desirable people to locate here and will justify all the effort made to secure the improvements.

Sierra Madre, one of the most beautiful little cities in the world, has since its founding been practically cut off and hemmed in on the east by the Santa Anita Wash, on the north by the Sierra Madre mountains, on the west by the Hastings ranch, and on the south by the Baldwin estate.

Sierra Madre is approximately two miles wide with only three narrow roads running south to Foothill Boulevard.
Two of these end blindly.

Sierra Madre is now probably the most difficult city in Southern California to locate because of its isolation, being a mile off the Boulevard.

About $10,000 Left By Fete Visitors Here

Woman's Club Head Thanks
Those Who Helped Make Event a Success

Furnished yesterday with an almost complete financial statement of the recent Wistaria Fete, Mrs. John H. Robertson, president of the Woman's Club and chairman of the Fete, issued a statement reviewing the festival and expressing her own and the appreciation of her organization to everyone who in any manner contributed to the success of Sierra Madre's great annual community event.

The incomplete financial statement prepared by Miss Clara Sykes, treasurer of the Fete, showed an intake by the Woman's Club of $7,387.65 and by the Sierra Madre Fire Department, through the parking privilege, of $2,182.98. The club expenditures so far recorded amount to $5,611.23, leaving a balance of $1,776.42. It is expected that other bills not yet rendered will cut the net revenue of the Woman's club to less than $1,500.
The attendance was over 75,000.
Mrs. Robertson's communication contained a brief outline of the organization that conducted the Fete, with gracious acknowledgment of the duties faithfully performed by each individual. She enumerated the various executive committees as follows:

Wistaria Fete Committees

Publicity: Miss Laura E. Cadmus, chairman of press and publicity, Woman's Club; L. R. Goshorn, Lee Shippey and W. R.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO BID DR. ROMAN FAREWELL

The last Forum of the year will be conducted by Dr. Frederick W.
Roman at the Woman's Club next Monday night at 7:30. This lecture concludes the series on The Story of Civilization in Education and Culture. A farewell dinner for Dr. Roman, who leaves this month on his annual trip to Europe for study of diplomatic relations, will precede the lecture at 6:30.

The Forum was sponsored this year by the Department of International Relations of the club, of which Mrs. Elmer A. Green is chairman. A cordial invitation is extended the public to attend on Monday night. Dinner tickets are 75 cents and admission charge for the Forum is 50 cents. Dinner reservations may be made with Mrs. William R. Lees or Mrs.
F. L. C. Roess.

Fair Weather Is on the Way; But Happy Days Are Still Here

"Fair weather is on the way,
although part of this week-end
may be cloudy," said Col. H. B.
Hersey, after going over the delicate mechanism of Sierra Madre's U. S. Weather Observatory on Scenic Point, and taking a squint at the clouds lowered over the mountainside.

"Last week's precipitation was unique," added the Colonel, "in that the storm was apparently headed away from us and had almost reached Utah. Then it did a strange thing; it turned right around and backed into Southern California. I feel confident that no such surprise awaits us this week-end."

In the storm that visited Sierra Madre and surrounding territory
during the past week a precipitation of 3.40 inches was recorded.
With less than a third of May past, this figure has already eclipsed the record set for the entire month of May for every year for May, 1921, was 6.35 inches, and the present month bids fair
to finish with a higher record.

The fall for 1930 up to the present date is 16.68 inches, as compared with 16.53 for the same period last year.

A heavy fall for the past week is reported throughout the entire San Gabriel valley.

Teachers Frolic and Are Beaten at Base Ball by Their Pupils

Nine for the Wilson Lions, and eight for the Faculty of the Willson Junior High School, was the score for the baseball game on Monday. The game between the faculty and the intermediate teams was a close one.

The faculty appeared on the scene as a pioneer group. The horse was made up of the two gym teachers—Misses Crane and Latimer. A C. Woodhouse, (august teacher of commercial courses) tripped along in a red biretta, and A. M. Brown, principal, brought up the end of the procession with a jumping rope. Miss Judith Tornell and Miss Evelyn Caldwell, dramatics and English teachers, were the yell leaders, and wore the appropriate costumes of white ducks and colored sweaters. The former was the best part of the baseball game.

To see demure Miss Tornell standing on her head was a great help to the batters. She also jumped rope and rode a bicycle. Miss Elizabeth Harkness did her part by keeping the home plate clean with a brush.

All in all, the game was a success, and the score was as hoped for by the student body.

Hoover's Appointee To Supreme Court Rejected by Senate

The United States Senate gave President Hoover a blow when the nomination of John J. Parker, of North Carolina, as associate Justice of the Supreme Court, was rejected by a vote of 41 to 39. The decision forces the president to seek elsewhere for a man to take the place of the late Justice Edward T. Sanford, of Tennessee. It is the second time in the Nation's history that a Supreme Court appointee was rejected.

Senator Borah led the opposition to Parker, whose defeat was chiefly due to the bitter opposition of organized labor and negro organizations. Parker was supported by 29 Republicans and 10 Democrats, while 17 Republicans, 23 Democrats and the lone Farmer-Labor senator opposed him. Not until the final roll was called was either side sure of the outcome. A change of one vote would have put the issue up to Vice President Curtis, who was presiding. Every one of the 96 senators was accounted for on the roll, those not voting being paired and evenly divided.

LOCAL STUDENTS STAR IN JUNIOR HIGH PLAY

"A Near Tragedy," a play depicting the desolation this world would be in were it not for mathematics, was presented by the mathematics department of the Woodrow Wilson Junior High School, in the assembly last Friday.

In the play Father Mathematics and all his children, the many branches of mathematics, were bound and made to cease all work, by the human race, and the whole world suffered.

A tap dance number was given by Gertrude Bandy, Bernita Sandstoe, Virginia Fennell and Dorothy Graham, who were accompanied by Cynthia Hull. Robert Magnuson and Randolph Twycross played a clarinet duet. The pieces rendered were Aloha and Barcarolle. They were accompanied by Moreland Kortkamp.

MRS. PURCELL WINS 37 FRIENDS TO CITY BY WISTARIA EDITION

"Thirty-seven of my friends and relatives in the East are envious of me, some of them hope at some time to share with me the joy of living in Sierra Madre," writes Mrs. Elizabeth G. Purcell, of 57 East Central avenue, in expressing her appreciation of the Wistaria number of THE NEWS. "I sent 37 copies of the souvenir issue away," she added, "and have had replies from every one of them. Most of my friends think this place as revealed in pictures and the delightful descriptions of its neighborliness and its climate by Col. Hersey and Lee Shippey, is nothing short of heavenly, as it really is, and they all want to see our city and to live here. That must be the effect on everyone who received a copy of the Wistaria number, and when you pause to consider that many thousands of them were sent all over the world, you realize the splendid effect the paper had. I wish all of those who received the Wistaria number might have a copy of THE NEWS every week—it is delightful and pictures our city as it is—simple, kindly and beautiful."

Kiwanis Learns of Crime Detection

An illustrated talk of distinctive nature was the feature of the Kiwanis luncheon on Tuesday. Lieutenant H. L. Barlow, of the Los Angeles Police Department, delivered a speech on The Classification of Fingerprints and Their Use in Detecting Criminals. His talk was illustrated with slides operated by B. A. French, also of the Los Angeles Police Department.

Lieutenant Barlow's address proved to be one of the most diverting ever delivered before the Kiwanis Club. Frank M. Hildebrand was chairman of the day and introduced the speaker. Albert Wheeling, Baldwin avenue hardware dealer, was admitted to membership at the luncheon.

During 1930, the States and their counties will spend over $1,601,000,000 for highway improvements, $250,000,000 more than in 1929. According to the department of agriculture, $663,667,000 of this will be spent on local roads and bridges and the balance on state highways.

ited him. They were made by the doctor's servant, Ah Gipp, with great precision. Mayor Carter wrote to the Chicago Times that "you can ask for a Bridge egg-nog at any bar in Southern California and get the right mixture."

Eugene Field was in poor health when he arrived in California from Chicago. The first day he visited Dr. Bridge he noticed the framed picture of Melville Stone, head of the Associated Press, hanging on the wall. He knew Stone was expected to arrive in a few days. Field wrote his own name on a slip of paper and pasted it on the picture. Many people expressed surprise that Eugene Field looked like that, and while Stone was vexed, Field enjoyed it. After Field's death Dr. Bridge preserved the slip of paper.

Fields Would Joke

Dr. Bridge took Field on a visit to the public library in Los Angeles, in company with Leigh Lynch. A demure library assistant entered the room and Field said, "Well, if you think we must cut down the salaries of this force of people, I suppose we shall have to agree to it, but only a cut of ten per cent, not a penny more." The girl supposed they were a new library board, and in five minutes every assistant was in either tears or anger.

"No, gentlement, I refuse to agree to any reduction," Field declared, and saved the day.

Describing his Sierra Madre home Dr. Bridge wrote: "Our house was on a square of nearly an acre of ground, situated high in the village, near the Sierra Madre mountains, and overlooking the town, the San Gabriel valley and the city of Pasadena, six miles to the west. It was a glorious view and a glorious vision. In Sierra Madre we had our first real joy of a garden. We planted fruit and ornamental trees, shrubs and flowers in profusion. It was a continuing pleasure through the three years of our residence there."

When the Bridge home became the Mira Monte hotel it housed more celebrities. It was a favorite station for tally-ho parties from both Los Angeles and Pasadena. If the spirits are still active around there they will fill Lee Shippey's fountain pen with many an interesting tale.

Forest rangers covering the foothills are calling attention to the fact that Los Angeles, San Bernardino and other counties have laws prohibiting smoking in the mountain regions during the dry season. Most people think the laws apply onto the national domains. Warning is given of strict enforcement this year.

STRANGE NEW PLANT FOUND UNDERGROUND HERE IS GOOD FOOD

Dr. Walter Swingle, of the Department of Agriculture, told the National Academy for Science of the discovery in Southern California of a plant that derives its nourishment by making use of the roots of other plants. It attaches itself to roots two feet below the surface and only appears a few inches above the surface. It is highly delicious and very nutritious, he declared, and promises to become an important item of food.

San Diego Woman's Friends Knew How To Make Her Happy

Many Sierra Madreans thought well of the suggestion that they could better keep their friends and relatives living afar informed of the interesting people and events here by sending them THE NEWS regularly than by writing letters. Many of them have entered subscriptions in the names of those for whom they care so that the home town paper will go forward regularly—and promptly.

Mrs. E. E. Scantelbury's friends and relatives were particularly interested that though she lived in San Diego she should have of this charming place. Lieut. Lynn C. Wright, of 3321 Curtis street, San Diego, under date of May 6, wished the editor well and ordered the paper sent to Mrs. Scantelbury, a relative, for a year, enclosing his check. On the following day Dr. May Culbertson Laidlaw, of Sierra Madre, stopped at the office of THE NEWS and tendered her check in payment of a year's subscription for Mrs. Scantelbury. "I like the paper so well myself that I wish every friend of mine could have it," said Dr. Laidlaw.

And finally, yesterday, a postal money order was received from Mrs. Scantelbury herself, directing that THE NEWS be sent to her, not knowing, of course, of the interest others had taken in her.

Women Find 52 Varieties Of Birds Here

L. A. Audubon Society Visits Sierra Madre's Natural Sanctuary

HOUSES ARE TENANTED

Members of the Los Angeles Audubon Society, with their president, Mrs. Leonard S. Hall, found their way on Thursday of last week to "Cuddie Inn," Canyon Park home of Mrs. Leon S. Griswold, their first vice president. They were met by the hostess and conducted through wooded paths, across a rustic bridge which spans the Little Santa Anita stream channel, to a stone stairway winding up through masses of ferns and dainty periwinkle to an open air living room under "Three Twin Oaks."

Here luncheon was spread before a large stone fireplace, set in a profusion of growing ferns and begonias. Adding charm to the scene were the dozen bird houses and humming bird coxer suspended from trees overhead for the tiny feathered friends of the society. Of these, two were discovered already tenanted for the season, one by the saucy Titmouse and the other by the Western Wren. Crested jays flew about unafraid while grey squirrels scolded from fences nearby for their daily contribution of nuts.

In this natural setting of birds, flowers and trees, Miss Miriam S. Paddis told of bird sanctuaries visited in Texas; Miss Ruth Spencer, treasurer of the society, related experiences of a recent world tour and Lucy Joy Sale, president of the Palos Verdes Junior organization, told of work being done by her club. William A. Thomas of this city recited Kipling's "Gunga Din" and "The Shooting of Dan McGrew."

A large cake decorated with a life size quail, bearing the letters "California State Bird" and bordered with leaves and pink roses, was a luncheon surprise presented by Mrs. Robert Fargo, honoring the president emeritus, Mrs. F. T. Bicknell, and in memory of the birth of the state bird.

Mrs. Griswold was assisted at luncheon by Mrs. Sally M. Boaz, of Canyon Park. Other officers present were Mrs. Grace Hall, second vice president; Mrs. Clara Veath, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Estelle D. Dyke, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Oliver C. Edwards, recording secretary; and Miss Jennie Winchester, librarian.

Fifty-two birds were identified here early in the week by twenty-seven members of the Mary Mann Miller Bird Study club who enjoyed their annual "bird walk" in Canyon Park. Last year sixty-three birds were found in this district, according to Mrs. Griswold, who is an honorary member of the club.

Beverly Hills Gain 2468 Percent Takes Record for Growth
Beverly Hills takes the national record for growth, according to the census returns, with a gain of 2468 per cent over a ten-year period. The new figures give it a population of 17,428, compared with 647 in 1920. With the announcement came a statement from Beverly Hills telling of a proposed civic center costing $1,000,000, which the residents claim will be one of the show places of the Nation.

Until the Beverly Hills figures were disclosed Culver City held the lead among Southern California cities, with a 1011 per cent increase. Other figures follow: Alhambra, 29,450, compared with 9,095 in 1920, gain of 237 per cent; Compton, 12,291, compared to 1,478, a 732 per cent gain; Inglewood, 19,605, compared to 3,286, a gain of 497 per cent; Glendale, 62,607, compared to 13,536, a gain of 363 per cent; Hemet, 2,234, compared to 1,480 in 1920.

GEORGE M'MANUS, RUBE GOLDBERG, NOTED COMIC ARTISTS, WRITE TO EDITOR ABOUT BEE-PARROT DUEL

What the Bird Said Before Death Still Matter of Controversy Among Readers

Readers are still exercised over the story of the Glendora bees that killed the parrot, appearing in THE NEWS two weeks ago. Letters are still wandering in to the Bee editor, and several old friends of Harry Burke, who wrote the story, including George M'Manus, of Bringing Up Father fame, and Rube Goldberg, discoverer of Prof. Butts, have contributed to the comment in their characteristic style. THE NEWS invited its readers to answer the question "What did the parrot say to the bees that led them to sting the bird to death. Letters received this week follow:

Harry Burke,
% Bee Editor
Sierra Madre News:
Well, Harry, I see you are at it again. Say, was that parrot any kin to the birds I knew when I was a kid, on the Mississippi steamboats? If so, the parrot said "I remember a polly on the St. Louis levee that could spout fire that raised suspender buttons on the wharf, knocking all the roustabouts naked. Dinty Moore had a parrot that once made the hair on Mr. Jiggs' bald head stand up. See you sometime."

Regards,
George M'Manus.

Sierra Madre News:
Dear Sir: You are all wrong. The parrot didn't say "I wasn't anything the parrot said that roused the fury of the bees. It was what the parrot did. The bird probably flapped its wings and struck a bee or two. The Sierra Madre bee expert was

New Supreme Court Decision Will Hit All Home Brewers

Even the home brewers will feel the effect of the most recent decision of the United States Supreme Court on prohibition. Persons who sell bottles, barrels, corks or labels intended to make and sell liquor illegally, are subject to prosecution under the prohibition laws, says a decision this week that supplied a new enforcement weapon that Prohibition Commissioner Doran says will be used in a drive against all kinds of paraphernalia. "We will proceed with all our strength against manufacturers and stores dispensing such equipment," he said.

No change in the policy toward home brewers is contemplated, said Doran, but if they are deprived of the tools now sold openly in stores that have bobbed up all over the country, they will be out of luck.

Will Ask Billion For Navy to Equal Big British Fleet

In the wake of President Hoover's submission to the Senate of the naval treaty signed at the London conference, Representative Britten, Democrat of Illinois, and Chairman of the House Naval Affairs Committee, announced that America will embark on a $1,000,000,000 naval construction program, which will achieve parity with Great Britain. After a conference with Secretary of the Navy Adams, he said he will introduce a bill calling for sufficient cruisers, destroyers, submarines and aircraft carriers to give the United States equality of strength with the British during the next nine years. The Senate will be asked to scrap every provision of the naval treaty except that which provides for the building of no more battleships.

right—if they had looked under the wings they would have found plenty of stings.

Yours Truly,

Bee Editor,
The News.

Dear Sirs: The Marine dictionary for profane skippers says "In the parrot language may mean either 'Gotta H—' or 'D—'." You can take your choice. Even a parrot would have sense enough not to tell anyone to go to Hades in Glendora, so it is fair to assume that Polly damned the bees, forgetting for the nonce that they were in Glendora, and already fixed in that respect. I know something about Glendora, having received the cards of two motor cops in that welcome-to-our-city, fingers-crossed, parrot-ridden, bee-assassin comma in the San Gabriel valley. I wish Glendora plenty of luck, not all bad, but the percentage a Scotchman wouldn't give.

Yours truly,
F. D. McNish,
Aztec Hotel, Monrovia.

Mr. Harry Burke,
% Bee Editor
Sierra Madre News:

Here's Gluck. Perhaps the bees tried to put the bee on Polly and so got the Mike and Ike. Polly said "Hughes your imagination. Suppose you are sitting on the United States Supreme Court, with a couple hundred years in your inside vest pocket, and a parrot comes up charged with saying "to a honey sweet bee? Would you give the bird life? Certainly not and no sir. You would give the bird the bird. This is a matter for the attention of Professor Lucifer G. Butts. I thank you. Don't misspell my name."

F. H. HARTMAN

Pasadena Mother Is Jailed Because of Her Husband's Homebrew

Mrs. Louise R. Hoocker, of 2895 Sierra Grande street, Pasadena, former president of the labor board of Pasadena, and a candidate for city director, is in the county jail serving a 180-day sentence for possession of home-made wine and beer, which, she says, was made by her husband for his own use. She says she had no part in the making. Mrs. Hoocker says two investigators from the district attorney's office visited her home without a search warrant, and when refused entrance one of them forced his way to the cellar.

Mrs. Hoocker was taken to El Monte, against her protests, and sentenced by Justice of the Peace S. G. Wilson, with an option of a $500 fine. She was refused a change of venue, and lost an appeal.

When friends learned yesterday that Mrs. Hoocker had been compelled to go to jail and leave her four children, one in grammar school and four in junior college, a petition was started to ask the county parole board for her release. Robert S. Allen, a retired merchant of 326 Del Mar street, has also started an inquiry to find out why Mrs. Hoocker was not arraigned in Pasadena, instead of being taken to El Monte. District Attorney Fitts will be asked to make an explanation of the conduct of his snoopers.

ELECTRIC LIGHT LURES PESTS AND STIRS BEES

Recently electric lights have been successfully used in the war against pests. By suspending a lamp in the open over a pan of kerosene an excellent trap is made for use at night. The bright light draws by the thousands such insects as the codling moth, the leaf-roller, cherry maggot in its moth form, rose aphid and winged forms of cut and cabbage worms, which fly against it and, dropping into the pan of kerosene, are destroyed.

The apiarist has found that a beam of electric light directed on the entrance of his hives will stir the bees into activity several weeks ahead of the normal season and so increases honey production.

'Oldest' Store Keeper Tells Of Early Days Of Fish That Comes to Land

F. H. Hartman Celebrates His Twentieth Year in Business Here

"They had just broken ground for the building that Tom Tyler's furniture store occupies and the morning that I bought this store they cleared off the ground preparatory to building what is now the Wistaria Theater," says Sierra Madre's "oldest" merchant.

"There was a park, full of beautiful pepper trees, on the north or Baldwin side of our store—trees that were planted by the late Chloe Jones when she was head of the Sierra Madre school. On the other side of us, where Woodson Jones' office is, there was an enormous pine tree and then a lot of vacant lots, so that out of the side windows of the store we could watch the arrivals and departures from the P. E. station."

It will be precisely 20 years ago tomorrow May 10, since F. H. Hartman bought and began to operate the drug store at Baldwin and Central avenues in which he still holds forth. The picture he just described above is of that day. The population was 1100 then. The Pacific Electric had just issued a statement to the effect that its Sierra Madre station was its best village freight producing unit, for an abundance of citrus fruits went out from here and the town was looking forward in every way.

"I came to Sierra Madre because it was the place in all Southern California that most appealed to my wife and myself after a search of two years for a place in which we thought we might be most content," said Mr. Hartman. "There seemed to be everything here to make for contentment, and I have never once regretted our decision."

Mr. Hartman came from Muskegon, Mich., in 1908. Making his headquarters in Santa Monica for the next two years he calmly surveyed the situation until he found Sierra Madre. He has been in business here continuously since that time and in that respect is the "oldest" merchant now in a mercantile business.

Study Habits Of Fish That Comes to Land

Girl Schedules Grunion Run and Tells of Their Characteristics

Although the closed season for the Leuresthes tenuis, or grunion, will continue until July 1, the little fish are now frolicking on the fringes of southern California beaches under either the new or full moon, according to Miss Catherine Beers, of the zoology department of the University of Southern California, who has just completed a study of the tides to determine when these diminutive fish may be seen.

"Midnight hours are the best to observe the grunion," advises Miss Beers, "the tides reaching the highest peak between 10:30 p.m. and 1:30 a.m. when the gam-bolling grunion animate the sands. Future nights on which the grunion will run, and the time when the tide turns, are: May 13, 10:38; 14, 9:55; and 15, 10:25; June 10, 8:33; 11, 9:05; 12, 9:36; 13, 10:09; 14, 10:41; July 11, 9:27; 12, 9:52; 13, 10:29; 14, 11:00; 27, 10:28; 28, 11:17; August 8, 8:16; 10, 10:46; 11, 10:14. With the possibility of their also running on May 2, 12, 16, 29 and June 1, 9. "The Leuresthes tenuis is one of the few water animals on record that is known to come to dry land to spawn. Carried in by one wave, they deposit their eggs deep in the sand, the next wave washing the fish back into the water. From eight to ten days are required for the eggs to develop; they are then swept back by another tide into their ocean home, where they hatch. While the grunion is often considered a true smelt, that is not the case, as they are of the silver side family scientifically known as Atherinidae."

"The closed season extending from April 1 to June 30 allows the grunion to multiply rapidly and removes all likelihood of their being exterminated at the hands of fishermen or curious individuals who gather at the beaches during grunion runs. A great number will probably be caught during July and August when frequent nocturnal visits of the elusive fish are scheduled to occur."

INSTRUCTION COURSES IN BRIDGE BY EXPERTS

From the Mary Marsh Book Shop, 1612 Chelsea Road, San Marino, comes an announcement of interest to bridge lovers. Mr. Hartman, well known Pasadena bridge expert, and his sister, Mrs. Purdy, bridge instructor at the Huntington Hotel, will give instruction in contract bridge to groups of eight on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week. Telephone the Mary Marsh Book Shop, Alhambra 7580, for reservations.

INNOVATION AT NEXT ST. RITA'S CARD PARTY

Sixteen tables of bridge and five hundred were played at the St. Rita's card party held in St. Rita's auditorium last Tuesday night, May 6.

Winner of the first bridge prize was Mrs. J. H. Fitzgerald. Mrs. Philip Senour captured the first 500 prize. The committee in charge of arrangements included Mrs. Charles B. Klunk, Mrs. Ralph Solary, Mrs. Fred Scalzo and Mrs. Ada Oswald.

An innovation will be introduced into the St. Rita's card party to be held Tuesday, May 20. Instead of progressing from table to table, the players will simply rotate at one table during the entire evening. A prize will be awarded to the player holding the highest score at each table. The affair will be sponsored by Mrs. T. Wager, Mrs. Frank Rude and Miss Minnie Bork. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Favorite Dishes of Sierra Madreans

ONE of the dainties that attracted widespread attention among those who partook of the delicious luncheons served under the vine at the Wistaria

Fete were the "sweet potatoes in orange cups" made after the favorite recipe of Mrs. W. R. Lees, who was chairman of the luncheon committee of the Woman's Club, which catered to the appetites of Fete visitors.

There have been many inquiries for it, and it is with much pleasure that THE NEWS presents it to its readers, as follows:

Pare and boil twelve good sized sweet potatoes. Mash and add butter generously with a little cream and seasoning to taste.

Scoop the pulp out of six large oranges and fill the shells with the mashed potato.

Level off and brush with melted butter.

Place a marshmallow on top of each cup.

Place under a slow flame until marshmallows melt and is nicely browned.

(Editor's Note — What is your favorite recipe, or dinner or luncheon menu — or breakfast dish? Your neighbors in Sierra Madre would undoubtedly be interested to read about it in THE NEWS.)

INCREASE OF NEARLY $20,000,000 SHOWN IN SANTA FE REVENUES

An increase of $19,557,341.51 in revenues during the year 1929 in comparison with those of 1928 is shown in the thirty-fifth annual report of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Railway company, just issued. Operating revenues of 1929, compared with 1928, were $267,189,178.12 in 1929, compared with $247,632,836.61, in 1928, while operating expenses were $175,243,236.62, compared with $171,992,255.08. Net operating revenues were $91,945,941.50 compared with $75,640,581.53, and the net corporate income, representing the amount available for dividends and surplus, was $61,036,503.29, as against $49,930,430.55.

Freight revenues increased from $139,003,111.71 in 1928, to $204,551,491.70, in 1929.

While gross earnings last year showed an increase every month over 1928, with the exception of December, and the total was the largest in the company's history, the increase was largely due to freight and mail.

Oil Cuts Big Figure

American prosperity is dependent, to a large degree, on the oil industry. During 1929, the industry spent $25,000,000 for geological and geophysical explorations; $502,836,000 for drilling; $140,000,000 for oil and gas pipe lines; $270,000,000 for recovering petroleum and large sums in many other ways. The total, irrespective of overhead and administrative expense, lease rentals and the like, was $1,029,826,000.

The petroleum industry supplies the United States with one of its most important export products. In 1929, exported oil products were valued at $531,172,865, an increase of eight per cent over the year 1928.

These statistics give some idea of the value of the oil industry as a national asset. Petroleum is twentieth-century gold. It operates great factories, furnishes motive power for millions of automobiles, propels ships, heats a multitude of homes. We have been singularly blessed in the magnitude of our oil resources. Yet, according to authorities, our world supremacy in oil is threatened by the fact that production is far ahead of demand.

GIRLS CAN'T BE FAT AND LEAD IN SCHOOL BUT THE BOYS CAN!

THERE is a vast difference between boys and girls, says Dr. George C. Bellingrath, of Teachers' College, Columbia University, who has just completed a study showing that high school girls who are too fat, too thin, too short or too tall, can never become leaders. This is what he found:

A boy can be a leader among his classmates whether he is fat, whether he is short or tall, and despite poor or good marks in studies. A boy can be a leader whether his family be rich or poor, whether socially prominent or otherwise. But with girls it's another story.

Girls in high school who wish to attain leadership must be of average height and weight, must have good school marks and good school habits, and come from a family that is socially prominent and economically well-to-do.

Along the Paths of Yesterday

A History of Sierra Madre from the files of THE NEWS.

FRIDAY, MAY 3, 1907—

E. D. Block, one of California's "real forty-niners," has come to Sierra Madre with interesting stories of the days when "the streams glittered with gold."

W. R. Lees and Miss Marion Wilson were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wright on Saturday, Rev. C. E. Bentham officiating.

Local growers rejoice over the fact that lemons have reached $4.60 a box in the East, with the prospect that they will go to $10 by August.

FRIDAY, MAY 5, 1911—

Mrs. Elizabeth Borglum's painting Rain Storm on the Sierra Madres, has been bought by G. R. Mason, New York millionaire, for his Tuxedo Park home. The picture had taken a silver medal at the Seattle Exposition.

H. F. Bridges has just been chosen city attorney.

FRIDAY, MAY 5, 1916—

Only 136 votes were cast at the "Sleepiest primary election in standing the fact that there was standing the fact that there was a contest in the Republican party, which brought out only 79 ballots. The Democrats polled 40 and the Progressives 17.

The Board of Trade, entering upon a campaign to advertise the city, has just authorized the printing of 15,000 folders setting forth the advantages of Sierra Madre as a residence city, which are to be broadcast in the land. Mrs. E. L. Whitman had a miraculous escape from death when she was struck by a Pacific Electric train on Central avenue just west of the station.

FRIDAY, APRIL 21, 1921—

A shower was given for Miss Yerdia Appleby by Miss Claribel Constant at the latter's home in Azusa, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Smith. Miss Appleby is to be given another shower May 7 by Mrs. F. L. Parks at her new home in Hollywood.

The wedding of Miss Margaret Snell to Gilbert S. Keys, of El Monte, is announced for Saturday, April 30, with the Rev. W. J. Thompson to officiate.

"The loyal people of the city have once again put over one of the big events of Southern California," in the Seventh Annual Flower Festival which has just closed.

Sees Switzerland From Sierra Madre Windows

"I know a view in Sierra Madre that looks just like Switzerland," said Miss Lulu Barker, whose art work was a feature of THE NEWS Easter week. "And the view is right out my window eastward down the San Gabriel valley. The thick trees, the rolling land—the homes dotting the bosom of the valley far, far away. It's beautiful and I'm going to paint it some day soon."

One morning shortly after midnight I awoke and looked out to the east. The moon was full and it looked like a great yellow bowl. The shadows of the beautiful Sierra Madre trees stretched downward and beyond them twinkled the lights of the San Gabriel valley towns. The scene was peaceful beyond imagination, but I felt that it was partly because I was viewing it from lovely Sierra Madre that it looked so good."

Soil Will Yield Prosperity Far Above Normal

The present fruit and vegetable crop outlook in the central coast counties of California is exceptionally favorable. Growing conditions and general indications in producing areas between the Bay Cities and Los Angeles point to an agricultural output for in excess of normal years. This was the statement of William J. Mitchell, manager of the state cold storage plant, upon completion a few days ago of the first of a series of crop and market surveys of the state.

Predicting a banner season for the movement of citrus fruits, Mr. Mitchell reports having witnessed the loading out of 12,000 boxes of oranges, the first of the 1936 crop, and the official opening of the cantaloupe market when the first flat of 15 of the breakfast beauties brought $45 at public auction on the Los Angeles market.

Miss Edith Jones, a Sierra Madre girl, has been chosen as one of the candidates for Queen of Monrovia's annual festival, to be held May 17.

The membership drive of the Chamber of Commerce, just completed, has brought the membership up to 258, a total of 168 names having been added by the Blue and Gold teams, J. N. Hawks being Major of the Blues and Robert Mitchell of the Golds.

Meeting at the home of William Murphy, of Hoegge's Camp, resort proprietors in the Sierra Madre mountains, perfected an organization by electing E. V. Thompson, of Camp Rincon, president; T. E. Justice, of Wildwood Lodge, vice-president; T. Syvertson of Teddy's Outpost secretary and E. J. Killian, of Sturtevant's Camp, treasurer.

Lindy An is a cocker spaniel owned by Mrs. Jack Paschall of 210 East Highland. Lindy An is a combination name derived from the Col. Lindbergh-Ann Morrow romance. The dog is heavily furred, playful, pettish, gentle, not given to ventures on the common battle fields of other species. In fact Lindy An's attitude is that a pup that runs will live to fight another day.

Several nights ago someone in the neighborhood of Mrs. Jack Paschall was taking the high grades of the foothills with an interior commotion that sounded like a multiplied eruption of Vesuvius. Mrs. Paschall detected a strange cry wedging through the gargantuan disturbance. It was a cry of distress and addressed to her from Lindy An. On top of it came the staccato bark of a prowling coyote.

Mr. Paschall's sleep ended. The tense silence that ensued was suddenly pierced by another cry of distress from Lindy An. Mr. and Mrs. Paschall descended to the yard. All was quiet on the eastern front and no Lindy An or coyote in sight.

For two days Mrs. Paschall lamented the loss of Lindy An. The only solution seemed to be that the vicious coyotes had carried the dog to the hills.

Then the woodpile solved the mystery. Lindy An came out. For forty-eight hours Lindy An had been recovering from fright.

Stanburys' Rainbow Ends In Streams

Four Months of Fishing and Eight in Sierra Madre Their Happy Lot

A LONG SWEET DREAM

"The combination of a winter in Sierra Madre and fishing the northern streams in the summer is my idea of the ideal life," said Recompense Stanbury, at his home on North Baldwin, on the eve of his departure with Mrs. Stanbury on his annual four-months fishing tour. Early last Monday morning, with the first peep of dawn, the Stanley car slipped down to Foot-hill Boulevard and headed for the McCloud river, in the Shasta mountains, the first fishing stop on this year's itinerary.

Every year for twelve years Mr. and Mrs. Stanbury have taken the long jaunt of 5,000 miles or more, hitting the old standbys, exploring new streams, finding keen pleasure in leisurely fashion, keeping spring in the winter of their lives by close touch with nature. Mr. Stanbury is an expert with the rod and reel, and an encyclopedia on the prolific pools and streams.

"We'll be back in September and glad to get back here," said Mr. Stanbury. "We first came to Sierra Madre 17 years ago and built this house. We had traveled all over the West after I had retired from business at Mason City, Iowa. And after seeing every town and city on the coast we selected Sierra Madre. We like it here because everything is near to ideal, the climate, the water, the scenery and the people."

During his active business career Mr. Stanbury started and owned five newspapers in Iowa, all in Mason City—the Times, Herald, Globe, Gazette and Republican. When he sold out they were consolidated.

"The best fishing I have found in all the West is at Lake Ranon, in northern Montana," said Mr. Stanbury. "We caught land-locked salmon there and they certainly supplied great sport. I enjoyed it and so did Mrs. Stanbury, but somehow we would rather take our fishing in running streams. The still water lakes don't seem to have the same kick."

"The first fishing we will get on this trip will be in the McCloud, where the rainbow trout run fine. We have had good luck there. It is so good we keep a cabin there. There are two runs of salmon in the McCloud, one in June and one in September, so we get them coming and going on our annual trip."

"From McCloud we go on to Portland and spend two weeks with friends. Then we go on through the Coeur d'Alene to Wallace, Idaho. The trout are very good there. From there we go to the St. Regis river, Montana. After a stay there of several weeks we wind back to California and stop at the Klamath river."

"What did your biggest trout weigh?"

"Oh, about four pounds. But the weight doesn't count. The sport is in the catch."

"Yes, I like to fish," said Mrs. Stanbury. "But I don't do as much now as I used to. You know catching trout and salmon is real hard work."

"The most exciting encounters I have had have been with the bull salmon, weighing six, seven and eight pounds," said Mr. Stanbury. "You find them in the deep, still pools beneath the rapids, usually hiding behind rocks, and you get them with bait, not flies. When you hook one you know you have a fish."

Fire Flames

By One of The Boys

ABOUT all that a fellow can get out of the "gang" that represents the Sierra Madre Fire Department is "How many did you catch?" Just recently Tom Neale and Gordon McMillan came to terms and agreed to go fishing (together). Heretofore they had dodged each other and gone to different places. On this particular occasion they were coherent and formed a combine to get all the fish that were in the dam, long before another fisherman would get there. To make certain that they would be first, they stayed at the dam all night. It was even told that they slept on the raft that was available at the dam, and that Tom had to tell Mac when it was time to get up. Just as day was breaking, each fellow sat up on his side of the raft and work began.

Presently Tom got a bite and started to rock the boat. Mac, knowing the delicate floating capacity of the raft, turned in time to overbalance Tom into the water and as Tom fell in Mac fell off. Once more Tom and Mac are on disagreeable terms.

Can you imagine another pair such as Bob Babbitt and Harlan Gerlach going out together. When Bob goes fishing, he dons his fishing clothes the night before and his wife makes him sleep in the garage. At any rate the twain departed for the much mentioned dam in the early hours of the day. Harlan is so extremely agreeable that Bob had a kind of a dull time of it for a while, until he claimed he had a two-foot trout on his line. Of course Harlan doubted it and showed it. "Dog-gone it, Harlan—don't you believe it?" excitedly asked Bob, as he whistled through his teeth. "I'm sorry, Bob, but I must reiterate that I have emphatically decided that you have had an illusion," answered Harlan. "All right, a-l-right, I won't argue with you," acquiesced our little plumber. They also came home with a grouse and no trout. Their difficulty will be settled tonight by the firemen at the "feast table."

It won't be long until Ye Sierra Madre Fire Department will be displaying brand new, shiny buttoned, made-to-order uniforms. Every fellow has been measured. Our police chief wants to be outshined, so he is already wearing a new police uniform.

FIRE'S OUT.

Girl Hiker Dies Fighting Her Rescuers

Mrs. Percy Found Exhausted and Hysterical on Mt. Baldy Trail

The dramatic story of the death on Mount Baldy trail of a young mother, is told by J. R. Spivey, Jr., of the Southern California Edison Company. The victim was Mrs. Mildred Percy, of 1477 Las Lunas avenue, Pasadena, who sacrificed her life in the storm of last Saturday while seeking a site to spend a vacation with her two young children. Mrs. Percy was taking a post graduate course at the Broad Oaks School of Child Research, and had planned to take the hike to Kelley's camp in company with ten others. The storm led the others to abandon the trip and she determined to go alone.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Turner met Spivey and his companion, Kenneth Taylor, both of the Edison rescue squad, on the trail at 8 o'clock Saturday night, near Rattle Snake Springs, and told them there was a young girl on the trail who was cold and hysterical. The men fought through blinding snow and came upon Mrs. Percy. "We found her sitting in about ten inches of snow with her arms drawn close to her body and her fingers clenched so tightly that we could not open them," said Mr. Spivey. "Taylor went to the cabin in a mile further up the trail and procured blankets, returning in half an hour. By then Mrs. Percy was in an advanced state of delirium and under the delusion that we were going to kill her. She fought so hard that we had difficulty keeping her out of the fire we had built."

George Allison, at Ice House canyon, says he warned Mrs. Percy not to attempt the trail.

CIGARETS AND MATCHES BIG FIRE OFFENDERS

Recently the National Board of Fire Underwriters issued a summary giving the causes for the greatest fire losses in each state in 1928. In 19 states cigarettes, cigars and matches were responsible for a majority of the waste; in 11 states, defective chimneys and flues; in five states, boilers, furnaces and the like; in two states, sparks on roofs, and in three states, misuse of electricity, oil products and spontaneous combustion.

Record Building On, Says Sec'y Lamont

Construction contracts for public projects in the first three months of 1930 amounted to $334,000,000, an increase over the same period of 1929 of 35 per cent, Secretary of Commerce Lamont told delegates to the United States Chamber of Commerce meeting in Washington. In the same period highway contracts reported by the governors of 24 states aggregated $84,000,000 as compared to $32,000,000 a year ago.

"Such speeding up is sound and prudent and makes a definite contribution to business activity and reduces unemployment," he said.

SAFETY PRIZE IS WON BY THE UNION PACIFIC

For the seventh time in as many years the Union Pacific system again won first place in the annual railroad safety contest, according to a report received by Carl R. Gray, president, from the National Safety Council in Chicago. The prize has been awarded this system during 1929 at a banquet in Chicago May 19. Each of the subsidiary units of the system were also awarded first prize in their respective divisions for safety records.

The Union Pacific employees worked a total of 129,165,000 "man hours" during 1929 and there was an average of but 2.48 reportable injuries per million man hours during the year.

Charlie Paddock, Pasadena's famous sprinter, answering Miss Madeline Lubetty's suit for $100,000 for breach of promise, says: "Last October in California Miss Lubetty and I both decided it would be best for us to remain just friends."

The old Indian Canyon route saw its first car since the auto came into use last Sunday, when Owen Gibbel, his wife, Ruth Gibbel and Cliff Hancock, of Hemet, negotiated the trail. The road leads up the Canyon from near Soboba. It was the second road built up the mountain early in the eighties. Most of its eight miles is along the ridges, where water runs lightly.

The fire protection road through the mountains from Mount Wilson to connect with the Tie Canyon road to the desert will be completed by June 1. All that remains to be done is the construction of switchbacks. Assistant District Forester R. L. Deering and Assistant Supervisor A. J. Mueller headed a party on an inspection tour this week. The present width of the road is from nine to ten feet. It will not be opened to the public for the time being.

Pasadena won't stand for any encroachments of Los Angeles that may tend toward annexation, as was evidenced the other day when Pacific Electric workers placed a sign on South Los Robles street, near California, reading: "Street Closed—Order of Los Angeles Police Dept." Protests immediately began pouring into the city hall and the newspaper offices. Indignant citizens demanded the removal of the sign, and it was removed. "Oh, we use these signs everywhere," said the railway workers.

Zensaku Azuma, a Pasadena Japanese who was in the U. S. aviation service during the war, is tuning up his "Red Wing" plane for a tour around the world. His main object, he says, will be to interest his native countrymen in Japan in the purchase of American-built planes and aero engines, in place of the equipment they have been getting from England, France and Germany, largely because most Japanese aviators have learned their stuff in those countries. Azuma bought his own plane and will pay his own expenses on the trip.

To Lead Fitts' Campaign

George B. Bush, Los Angeles attorney, former State Legislative Counsel, who has been prominently identified with the presidential campaigns of Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover in California, has been made director of the campaign of District Attorney Buron Fitts for the nomination for Governor. He says Fitts' organizations are being completed in each of the state's 58 counties.

The apple orchards of Yucalpa Valley, beyond Redlands, now in glorious bloom, are attracting hundreds of motorists.

Sierra Madre Woman Wins Bible Prize

Mrs. John Lowe Tells How to Know Contents of Great Book

Mrs. John Lowe, of 58 East Carter avenue, won the second prize in the district federation of woman's clubs in the Bible contest, and has received the award. Mrs. Lowe is president of the Missionary Society of Bethany Church, and has a daughter now living in Portland, who has spent a number of years in China in missionary work.

Mrs. Lowe's prize paper which has attracted much interest throughout the Southland, follows:

Why I Should Own a Bible and Know Its Contents

BECAUSE—

1.—After centuries it is still the world's best seller.

2.—It is the foundation of civilization, the basis of all moral, civil and spiritual law, and holds the key to safe international relationship and permanent peace.

3.—No other book is so often quoted.

4.—It is the most marvelous love story ever recorded, expressed in exquisite literature.

5.—It is both loved and hated; many imperil their lives to read it.

6.—It is incomparable, eternal; young; a book for all people, for all time; the only revelation of God's purpose and will for man.

7.—Its inexhaustible riches, unfathomable wisdom and childlike simplicity meet humanity's universal need.

8.—It reveals God as the Creator of the universe, the God of nations, yet a loving Father whose presence is immanent and power available.

9.—It reveals the Living Christ whose birth gave us Christmas; whose death, Salvation; and whose resurrection, Easter; through whom sacrifice and suffering are transformed into fellowship and joy, and death into life.

10.—It reveals a will in which I find myself a beneficiary. It sets forth the tragic death of the Benefactor and the conditions and security of my inheritance.

11.—It has contrasting messages for those who accept and for those who reject its teachings.

12.—It imparts spiritual life and transforms human life.

13.—It answers the why? whence? and whither? of my being.

14.—It gives a proportionate sense to life's values.

15.—It is a message from One who knows, loves, cares; who having given Himself has given all things.

16.—Possessing all other books, ancient and modern, without a Bible my library is incomplete.

17.—Having the wisdom of all the sages of all ages without knowing the Bible my ignorance is irreparable and eternal.

18.—Its claims can be proved by obedient faith, and by becoming its loving bondsman "I am forever free."

In a total of 305,261 arrests made in Los Angeles during 1929, 208,942 were traffic citations; 15,035 were for intoxication, and 8,872 were automobile thieves, or alleged ones.

What To Plant — What To Do

By Jessie Ward
Landscape Gardener

THE three best annuals for summer and fall bloom are Asters, Zinnias and African Marigolds.

They should be planted in beds or borders about eight inches apart and become stocky and many branched. Then they will give bloom over a long season.

Asters come in many shades, as white, lavender, purple, pink, rose, and crimson. The American Beauty Asters are one of the best varieties. There are early and late blooming types. By planting both types, you can have asters for a long time.

The Giant Dahlia Flowering Zinnias will give a wealth of bloom all summer and if a few are planted late, say in June or July, they will bloom until Thanksgiving.

The Giant African Marigolds are easy to grow and like the Zinnias will bloom over a long season. The large ball-shaped orange or yellow blooms are borne on long stems and are splendid for cutting.

Other summer and fall flowering annuals are Cornflowers (or bachelor buttons), Cosmos, Salpiglossus, and Salvia.

Some Perennials not mentioned last week that may be planted now for summer and fall blooms are:

Verbenas—A useful trailing plant for banks and ground cover.

They come red, purple, lavender, pink and white. Plant about two feet apart.

Fuchsias—Shade-loving plant in rich colors, mostly reds and purples. Because there are so few colorful plants that bloom in the shade, the fuchsias are indispensable in the garden. Some varieties will grow to considerable height.

Day Lilies or Hemerocallis—Large yellow or orange lily-shaped flowers. Will grow about anywhere and can be used in old fashioned borders or rockeries.

Marguerites—Tall growing bushes of white and yellow daisies. Give them plenty of room in the garden. Are always in bloom.

Shasta Daisies—These giant daisies are used for borders if there is plenty of room. They spread out to make a wide border.

Valerian—An old-fashioned plant growing about two feet high with clusters of small pink or white flowers.

Salvia Leucanthus (the "Purple Sage") A low growing plant covered with spikes of purple flowers in the fall. A splendid mass of color when in bloom and, like all purples and lavender flowers, will combine with all other flowers. Gladioli bulbs can still be planted as late as July. They will bloom in the fall months.

In the gardens about town I see:

Two six-year-old Avocado trees growing in the front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Neale on Mt. Trail Avenue are in full bloom now. Last year Tom sold over $50 worth of fruit from one of the trees and, by the way, it was the Ward variety.

Some clumps of Rosy Morn Penstemon among the shrubs in front of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Murray's new home on West Grand View avenue. Their colorful blooms set off the whole yard.

Some Penstemon, Sierra Madre, in front of the Ole Hanson Jr. home on Sierra Madre avenue, which have been blooming continuously since they were planted there a year ago.

A border of new hybrid flowering Wasonias in brilliant shades of orange, pink, rose and lavender, growing in the garden of Mrs. Grace Hall on North Canyon avenue.

(Editor's Note — Each week Miss Ward will contribute timely suggestion for making Sierra Madre gardens more beautiful and interesting. Her advice will be along the line of things to be done in the way of planting and care at the time her articles appear, for the guidance of those interested.)

2,000 of Nation's Biggest Men Here To Boost Trade

Aiming at $2,500,000,000 in foreign trade for the coming year, the seventeenth annual National Foreign Trade Council convention, to be held at the Hotel Biltmore, May 21, 22 and 23, will bring to Los Angeles two thousand of the leading business executives of the nation. James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, of New York, will be chairman. The opening address of welcome will be made by Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker.

The program, which is being announced by the council this week, includes addresses by Edward A. Sumner, of the American Radiator Company and vice president of the American Chamber of Commerce in France, on "Some Aids to American Business in Europe;" H. G. Smith, of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, on "American Ships and Shipbuilding;" and J. M. Eaton, general traffic manager of the Pan American Airways, on "Commercial Aviation."

'Big' Men Developed By 'Breaks'

Opportunity Comes to Only a Few, Says Head of Western Union

At last one big man—the head of the company employing more people than any other concern in America—Newcomb Carlton, head of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., and the Western Union, has the courage to abandon that old moss-grown bunk about the early bird getting the worm, etc., and so on. When asked for the secret of success he said something that sounded like "Bah!"

"It's the breaks," he declared. "Success depends on which side of the street you were walking on a certain day at a certain time. The breaks sometimes are trivial but they turn life this way or that."

Speaking in Kansas City, he continued:

"Listen. There are a dozen men in our plants here in Kansas City who could fill my job as well as I can. But they probably won't have the opportunity. They won't get the breaks that will give them the opportunity to show what they can do. Men prove themselves in emergencies. A crisis may never come to these men."

"There are not only a dozen. There are hundreds of men and women here in Kansas City who could fill the jobs of the big men. They cherish a little fire in their breasts, feeble as it is. And will that fire blaze up? Probably not. It won't have a chance. The little fire goes out and they go to their graves, ordinary working men and women. It is pathetic, but it is true."

"I don't believe in preaching to youth."

"We don't tell our messenger boys how to take care of their teeth and cure their ingrowing toenails. They don't want a lecture. They want a living. They will learn about life as they please."

"I don't think the outlook is hopeless. One can encourage the breaks by taking intelligent chances. But this old gospel of 'work hard' and so on is the bunk. "And, say—" he took his jaunty gray hat from the handy radiator, "these stuffed shirts who come here from high places and tell you how the world is getting along are 90 per cent bunk and 10 per cent publicity. I see them in their offices. I meet them in Washington."

CONTACT PROGRAM MAY SAVE MANY LIVES

The early recognition of tuberculosis is the most important factor in its eradication, according to Dr. M. L. Pindell, expert roentgenologist and member of the technical staff of the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

"The most constructive plan of fighting tuberculosis is through the well organized 'contact program' which the Los Angeles county health department and the association conduct jointly as a year-round program," Dr. Pindell says. "This means the examination of all children whose parents or other members of the family have the disease or have died of it."

"I firmly believe that the x-ray is the most reliable method of diagnosis of tuberculosis in childhood, and this service is available to every one free of charge at the Sierra Madre Health Center, in the Sierra Madre city hall. If there is no occasion for worry the x-ray test will relieve one's mind. If there is an indication of future trouble, the important thing is to know it early enough while steps for warding off a later break-down from the disease is still possible."

NOTICE OF COMMISSIONER'S SALE ON FORECLOSURE

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Los Angeles.

GRACE M. STICKNEY, et al., Plaintiffs, vs. ROY F. BUTLER, et al., Defendants. Under and by virtue of an order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale, issued out of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles, on the 2nd day of May, 1930, in the above entitled action, wherein the above named plaintiff obtained judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale against ROY F. BUTLER, CORA L. BUTLER, WILLIAM C. JACOBS, ANNA A. JACOBS and J. M. CANAVAN, Defendants, on the 28th day of April, 1930, for the sum of Forty-eight Hundred Forty-four and 67/100 Dollars, gold coin of the United States, plus interest and costs, which said Judgment and Decree was on the 30th day of April, 1930, entered and recorded in Judgment Book 751 at page 152 et seq. (to which judgment and decree reference is hereby made), I am commanded to sell at public auction, all the following described premises, situate, lying and being in County of Los Angeles, State of California, and bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

Lot Twenty-nine (29), in Tract 7759, as per map recorded in Book 93, Page 5 of Maps, in the office of the County Recorder of Los Angeles County, California. PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Tuesday, the 5th day of June, 1930, at 12 o'clock noon of that day, in front of the Court House door of the County of Los Angeles, Broadway entrance, I will, in obedience to said order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale, sell the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said judgment with interest and costs and expenses of sale, to the highest and best bidder for cash, gold coin of the United States.

Dated May 2, 1930.

GREAT MYSTERY PLAY AND MOTHER PROGRAM AT WISTARIA THEATRE

The Wistaria Theatre starts on its second week tomorrow afternoon under the new management of Messrs. Armstrong and Bergen with a mystery talkie that is crowded with thrills, and a special program in keeping with Mother's Day. Matinees will be given at 2:30 o'clock each day and the evening performance will start at 7:45, the one show a night policy having hit a popular note here.

The feature for tomorrow and Sunday will be Unmasked, a Craig Kennedy detective tale, filled with suspense and spookiness. Many well known screen favorites are in the cast of the talkie.

The Wistaria has booked for next Wednesday and Thursday nights The Song of Love, a talkie, singing and dancing play featuring Belle Baker and Ralph Graves. Belle Baker comes from vaudeville and makes her motion picture debut in the feature. It is a human interest story of backstage life, developed in a manner that will bring a lump in the throat and tears in the eyes. The drama of the story hits a sensational climax.

The new sound equipment of the Wistaria has proven the equal of that in the leading metropolitan theatres, and the local house seems to be on the road to real success.

BEBE DANIELS EXCELS IN 'LOVE COMES ALONG'

Even as a tiny child, Bebe Daniels, the dancing, black-haired Radio Picture star, displayed remarkable dramatic instinct. Her parents were playing a two-year engagement in Dallas, Texas, at the time of Bebe's birth. When she was ten years old she made her first public appearance on the stage.

After a long and varied career on stage and screen, Bebe Daniels found herself co-starring with Richard Dix in "Sinners Under Heaven." After that she was played at the head of her own producing unit at Paramount and has to her credit "The Campus Flirt," "Senorita," "She's a Sheik," and "The Fifty-fifty Girl."

In her first Radio picture, "Rio Rita," she made her singing debut on the screen and now, in "Love Comes Along," opening tomorrow at the Fox Florence Theatre, Pasadena, her exquisite voice again is heard. Her role in this production is the most powerful and dramatic one she has ever enacted in moving pictures.

Guests of Mrs. Ella A. Cadmus on Tuesday were her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Virgin, of Fallbrook and Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Straw, of Long Beach, and Mrs. Straw's sisters, Mrs. Mary Herman, of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, and Mrs. Lily Scott, of Minneapolis, spent Monday at the Straw cottage on Woodland drive.

TOSS HOT RIVETS IN "LADIES LOVE BRUTES"

George Bancroft, "The Mighty," had to learn all about hot rivets when he was making his last picture, Ladies Love Brutes, which came last night to the Fox Colorado theatre, Pasadena, for a week's stay. The busy star with the lusty laugh appears as a structural iron worker who builds up a contracting business of his own and becomes very wealthy. He strives for recognition in high society and falls in love with a lovely daughter of the rich. The romance leads him into new difficulties. The climax is a surprising one and very thrilling.

Mary Astor, Frederic March, Stanley Fields, Ben Hendricks Jr., David Durand and Freddie Burke support the star.

The stage presentation will be Fanchon and Marco's "Brunettes" idea, featuring a very versatile cast in beautiful dance numbers. The Fox Colorado band presents the musical accompaniment, and Fox Movietone News completes the program.

LANDLADIES 'CAUGHT SHORT' IN FOX PICTURE

What kind of compliment do you think pleases film stars?

Polly Moran nearly grinned twice around her face when one of her friends unbelted this one. "If all the laughs caused by Polly Moran could be gathered together in one place at one time, the battle of the Marne would sound like two small boys shooting pop guns."

Polly is co-starred with Marie Dressler in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayor's talking comedy Caught Short, which comes to the Fox Strand theatre, Pasadena, tonight (May 9) for a week's run.

Marie and Polly are seen as two landladies who get their fingers burned in the stockmarket. Charles Morton and Anita Page take the roles of their children. Other players include T. Roy Barnes, Edward Dillon, Nancy Price, Herbert Prior, Alice Moe and Greta Grandstedt. This picture was directed by Chuck Riesner, responsible for The Hollywood Revue of 1929.

BIG VARIETY OFFERED ON WASHINGTON BILL

A lineup of outstanding pictures is in prospect for the coming week at the Washington theatre, located at Washington and Lake avenues, Pasadena. Scheduled for today only is a double feature program, Trailing Trouble, with Hoot Gibson, and Skinner Steps Out, starring Glenn Tryon and Myrna Kennedy.

The Kibitzer, an outstanding laugh hit featuring Harry Green, Mary Brian and Neil Hamilton, appears on the Washington screen tomorrow. Sunday and Monday, May 11 and 12, Edmund Lowe and Victor McLaglen entertain in that riotous comedy of army life, The Coccy-Eyed World.

Rudy Vallee, who has sung his way into the hearts of the Nation, will be seen and heard in The Vagabond Lover on Tuesday, May 13. The Laughing Lady, with Ruth Chatterton and Clive Brook is scheduled for the Washington screen on Wednesday. The week closes with another double bill, Oh Yeah, with Robert Armstrong and James Gleason, and The Mississippi Gambler, featuring Joseph Schildkraut and Joan Bennett.

The Washington theatre runs a continuous performance every day. The doors open at 1:45. The first show is at 2:15, with shows thereafter at 4:30, 6:45 and 9 p.m.

Miss Perry Won Fame Overnight

Margaret Perry, who plays the adventurous girl from Mississippi in "Strictly Dishonorable," now at the Biltmore theatre, Los Angeles, did not know the night before she won fame that she ever was to be an actress.

Until the day before she appeared on the stage she was a student at Miss Hewitt's school in New York. She is the daughter of Antoinette Perry, who helped to stage the play. When the girl who was playing the part suddenly became ill Margaret was summoned from school. She showed inherent talent by mastering the part in a few short hours and "put it over" so well the critics labeled her as one of the "finds" of the New York season, where the play ran all last season.

INCREASED INTEREST SHOWN IN EDUCATION

It costs $139.52 per capita for the 215,211 children attending the schools of Los Angeles, according to a survey just completed by the University of Southern California. Of the total, 123,939 are in elementary grades, 13,709 in kindergarten and 77,563 are going to the junior and senior high schools.

Students registered in colleges in the southland increased from 7,847 in 1920 to 26,581 in 1929.

Buyer and Seller in Close Contact Now

A new feature has just been added to the market news service of the California Fruit Growers Exchange by the installation of teletype communication between the Los Angeles departments and the 23 district offices. The installation of these new machines will accomplish a substantial saving in time, permitting faster dissemination of essential exchange information from all markets throughout the country to members, as a basis for their sales decisions. The market news service of the exchange, developed by constant telegraphic contact between Exchange representatives in all important markets and the central office, is unapproached by any other organization serving the fruit industry.

Sales results in all auction markets each morning and other general information that comes into the central exchange offices during the day through the 60 exchange district sales offices in the United States will be immediately sent out over the teletype machine and will appear at once in district offices in the citrus belt.

Legion Encourages Flying

By the authority of the Pacific Coast Miniature Aircraft League and sanctioned by the National Aeronautic Association, the Selma Post of the American Legion will sponsor a model airplane contest, to be held on Memorial Day. The three models to be allowed in the miniature contest will be the glider type, stick or scientific model, and fuselage models. Suitable awards will be given for the best models in each class.

DINNER GUESTS—

Mr. and Mrs. Leon S. Griswold and Mrs. Laura M. Cline were Saturday evening dinner guests of Miss Clara Sykes at Chapel Inn, Duarte.

CARLYLE HOUSE BIRTHDAY—

Mrs. C. E. House entertained Saturday, honoring the ninth birthday of her son, Carlyle. Nine boys enjoyed the games and refreshments, which were served to them from an attractive table centered with a large birthday cake with nine rose candles. Rose colored baskets were at each place.

MRS. EAKMAN GIVES RECITAL—

Pupils of Mrs. Florence Eakman were presented in an informal recital Saturday afternoon at three, at her home, 194 Mariposa. Parents were guests.

Those participating with selections from Mrs. Eakman's original poem, Moonlight and Starlight, were Betty Jo Adams, Barbara Gerscher, Miriam Coals, June Solnit, Marjorie Lea Verenz, Wayne Hendershot, Mary Jane Hendershot, Jane Terry, Margaret Ann Steinberger, Charles Shippey, Roberta Roberts, Shirley Shapiro, Martha Lewis and Marilyn Pfan. Jane Terry and Miriam Coals, hostesses for the afternoon, assisted in an original playlet in the land of make-believe, developing their own ideas. Picture books made in their weekly story hour lessons, were shown to the parents. Mrs. Lee Shippey, accompanied by Mrs. Eakman, led the children in a French round Frere Jacques. Henry Shippey's original poem, Bow, Wow, Wow was read by Mrs. Eakman, as was her favorite poem, Let There Be Peace. Francis M. Eakman sang a group of songs the latter part of the afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Leslie Gaze.

MRS. HART ENTERTAINS PRISCILLAS—

Mrs. Frank Hart, of Hartwood, Sierra Madre villa, entertained Thursday at tea for the Modern Priscillas, honoring Miss Edna R. Green, who leaves soon for a tour of Europe, and Miss Lydia Webster, sailing for Honolulu next month. About thirty-five guests were present.

Mrs. C. H. Cameron, of 105 South Hermosa avenue, entertained at her home on Monday evening with a Chinese chop suey dinner. The affair was to honor Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Cameron, of Charleston, W. Va., who are spending a few weeks in the Southland. Those present were

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Don R. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Perdue and daughters, Mary Louise and Katherine, all of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Cameron, of Sierra Madre.

MERCEDES SCHILTZ HONORED—

Mrs. W. J. Schiltz honored her daughter Mercedes' thirteenth birthday at her home, 87 West Highland, on Saturday evening, May 3rd. Bunco was played, after which a three-course luncheon was enjoyed by the guests. Those winning prizes were Edith De Temple, Bab Bains and Sadie Kiggins.

The invited guests included Marjorie and Evelyn Bergien, Marjorie Grippi, Yvonne Keegan, Sadie Kiggins, Bab Bains, Charlotte Butler, Edith Morago, Alice Martin, Edith De Temple, Celelia Gerhart, Nina Belle Neale, Annunziata Schiltz, Maria Schiltz, and the honor guest, Mercedes Schiltz.

ATTEND WHITTIER OPEN HOUSE—

Next Monday night Whittier College will have a night with the college in action—actual curriculum routine. Hammond Green, a senior this year, will participate. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer A. Green and Anna Green will attend. Anna Green will matriculate at Whittier the fall semester.

MOCK WEDDING, SHOWER FOR SOON-TO-BE BRIDE

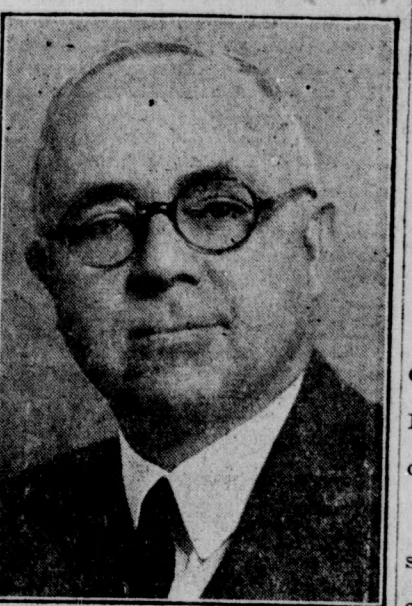

A mock wedding featured a prenuptial shower given by Mrs. Roy Fickett in honor of Ethel Tuggle who will shortly be married to Carl Knowles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Knowles, of this city. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. C. H. Tuggle, mother of the bride-to-be, Saturday, April 26.

The principals in the mock wedding were Mrs. Prentice Buie, the minister; Angela Scheeberger, the groom; Mrs. Dolly Hill, the bride; Mrs. Perret, best man and Mrs. J. Hosford, maid of honor. Pictures were taken of the wedding, following which refreshments were served on the porch and games played during the afternoon. Guests at the shower included Mesdames Gibbs, Mercer, Perret, Buie, Halpin, Bush, Hawthorne, Seifert, Taylor, Parmenter, Battelle, Perry, Langley, Hosford and Evans.

Under an amendment of the county wild flower ordinance passed by the county board of supervisors at the last meeting, picking of wild flowers without the written consent of the property owner becomes a misdemeanor punishable by a $500 fine or six months' imprisonment, or both.

Williams College To Be Represented By Elmer A. Green

President Garfield of Williams College has designated City Clerk Elmer A. Green, of Sierra Madre, to represent that important institution at the semi-centennial celebration of the founding of the University of Southern California, which will be observed in Los Angeles June 4 to 7 inclusive, and which will bring to the Southland representatives of many institutions of learning throughout the country. Williams, located at Williams-town, Mass., is one of the oldest colleges in the United States, having been founded in 1791. Mr. Green left it with an A.B. and an M.A. degree, he having been a member of the class of 1902.

ELMER A. GREEN

DRIVE ON AGAINST 150,000 WHO SNEAK INTO U. S. ANNUALLY

Protests against the alleged illegal entry into the United States of 150,000 or more of the 450,000 immigrants coming to the United States annually and against the "surreptitious entry of from 50,000 to 75,000 Mexican Indian peons" have been filed with Congress by the California Joint Immigration Committee, composed of the California State Federation of Labor, the American Legion, the Native Sons of the Golden West and various individuals. The committee has protested that unemployment conditions cannot be corrected as long as the "illegal entry of immigrants is permitted."

The protests point out these immigrants remain permanently because the law does not provide machinery and adequate appropriation for apprehension, punishment and deportation of violators; that the immigration department in consequence makes no effort to apprehend deportable aliens and confines deportation to cases turned over from state institutions.

It is shown that no patrol feasible can prevent illegal entry along many thousand miles of border and coast line while the incentive to enter is so great and the chance of apprehension after entrance so small; that restriction of legal quotas without legislation to apprehend and deport illegal entrants would only increase the number of illegal entries; that the United States is the only nation not now protecting home labor, and guarding against unemployment by rigorous exclusion of alien labor; and it urges therefore consideration and passage of the legislation necessary to enforce the declared purpose of the immigration act against violators.

The court for the southern district of Illinois has decided that $10,000 damages must be paid to the Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati & St. Louis Railroad by the owner of a truck who drove in front of a freight train, overturning the locomotive and five freight cars.

Women Here Dodged Ages On Census

Mrs. Heimes Finishes Work; Tells of Experiences in Canvass

"Some idea of the growth of Sierra Madre may be taken from the fact that after I had made the first canvass, I found more than thirty families had moved in within two weeks and I had to go back and get them," said Mrs. Mary Heimes, who was one of the census enumerators here. "Yes, Sierra Madre is growing fast."

"I was greatly pleased in getting one family that just arrived from the East and bought a home here. While passing through Oregon they were stopped by the census enumerator but decided not to register there. They were glad to be listed in Sierra Madre."

"I found many interesting people. There was the one one hundred per cent American, the pure blooded Indian woman. There are a number of Mexicans and Japanese but only one Chinaman. He is employed as a servant here. I must say that the people were very friendly and willing to help. Oh, yes, some of the women were reluctant about giving their ages. The alien women were the worst on that score."

Idol of the Orientals Brings His Art Here

Mei Lan-Fang, the great Chinese actor, will present a series of scenes from his best-known plays, given in Chinese, during the week of May 13th at the Philharmonic Auditorium, Los Angeles, under L. E. Behrmer's management.

This will be an interesting novelty, for Chinese drama is practically unknown here. The only English spoken during this engagement is in the form of announcements by the charming Miss Soo Young, mistress of ceremonies. Her brief and interesting outlines of the coming action bridge the span between the languages. With her able assistance becomes a universal song.

Mei Lan-Fang is an actor of great charm and skill, and the one-act plays which he presents are hundreds of years old in some cases, although they are still regularly played today in China.

Mei Lan-Fang's art is exotic and conforms with the fixed conventions of the Chinese. He interprets rather than impersonates. He is the Chinese equivalent of an American combination of John Barrymore, Helen Morgan, John Gilbert and Gloria Swanson. His work is being recognized as the quintessence of pantomime, the ultimate in grace and style and a token of far-off, ancient, abstractly beautiful things.

Hot Lead

By William E. Lasater

MOTHER GOOSE, UP-TO-DATE

THERE was an old sailor man lived in a basement. He had so many children He didn't know what to do. He gave them Dutch lunch, without any coffee And kicked them all soundly, and then home to bed.

Ezra and Bill went up the hill To fetch a pail of coffee. Ezra fell down and broke his journey

And Bill came tumbling after. Bill came in and he did frown To see the German pretzels, Stinman vex'd, did kick Bill next For spilling all the coffee.

Old father Fleming went to the cupboard To get his poor comrades a snack, When he got there the cupboard was bare And his buddies ate herring and cheese.

Little R. O., come blow your horn, The machine-gun squad is stealing the wad, Which makes the Strawberry Com. moan.

Oh! where's little Roder who looks after the heap? He's in the meeting, fast asleep.

Season of Dances, Maybe Picnics, too In the City's Park

Sierra Madre is to have another season of summer night dances in its picturesque little Central avenue park, to be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. The program was authorized at Monday night's meeting of the Chamber, when a committee consisting of R. J. Davies, the new president, R. C. Copenhaver and Charles Klunk was authorized to make the necessary arrangements. It is the tentative plan to dedicate a night to each of half a dozen local organizations, including the Red Cross and the American Legion, when the program would be carried on under their direction.

Also, the Chamber hopes to bring about an arrangement that will permit the holding of picnics in the park, with the use of the city club house. James Heasley, representing the volunteer firemen on the Chamber's board, was appointed a committee of one to take this subject up with the City Council through Ralph W. Stewart, chairman of its committee on parks.

STATE FEDERATION OF MUSIC CLUBS OFFICERS ARE ENTERTAINED HERE

Retiring officers of the California Federation of Music Clubs were guests last Saturday of Miss Lucy Wolcott, past chairman of course of study, and chairman for the coming administration, at the Wolcott cottage on Alta Vista and Vista Circle drives. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Agnes Wolcott, principal of the Continuation High School and superintendent of Junior Placement, of Long Beach.

At a board meeting, the last for the current year, held in the morning, reports were heard on the recent convention held in Hollywood. A delightful luncheon of chicken and waffles followed, served at noon by the hostesses, after which a social good time was enjoyed.

Those present were Mrs. Abbie Norton Jamison, retiring president and president Southern Pacific district; Mrs. John K. Dudley, executive secretary and parliamentarian; Mrs. Charles C. Blauvelt, of Pasadena, retiring choral chairman; Mrs. Aaron H. Bergner, retiring treasurer and newly-elected vice president at large; Mrs. Charles Jaben Hubbard, retiring corresponding secretary, new vice president and president Los Angeles Music School Settlement, and Mrs. Burdette H. Norton, chairman of ways and means. Special guests were Mrs. Clifford A. Williams, Pasadena; Mrs. Grace O'Connell, Grand Rapids, Michigan, and Miss Laura E. Cadmus, Canyon Park.

Extend Ramona Season To Please Its Patrons

In response to hundreds of requests extension of the season of the eighth annual Ramona Festival at Hemet to include performances Saturday and Sunday afternoons, May 17 and 18, has been announced by the board of directors of this spectacular community event. Rain necessitated cancellation of the performances scheduled for last week end. Including the performances tomorrow and Sunday, May 10 and 11, the play will, therefore, be given four more times this year.

Cancellation of the two performances last week-end disappointed more than 10,000 people—the expected attendance on the two days—nearly half of whom made advance reservations. Practically all of these reservations have been exchanged for seats at one of the four remaining performances.

The cast of 200 will be held intact for the extra week-end of the Ramona season.

Woman's Club Notes

By LAURA E. CADMUS

HARTER members will be honor guests of the club next Wednesday, when a tribute will be paid by Mrs. George F. Ferris to the memory of the late Mother Caroline Lincoln Osgood, founder of the club. Charter members will be represented by Mrs. Edith Hawhurst, the youngest of their number, at the luncheon in the City Hall this month, will be the guests of the club at luncheon.

Katherine Skeels, Virginia Frances Sterrett, Lois Eaton and Marie Crowe, the four artists exhibiting at the Little Art Gallery in the City Hall this month, will be the guests of the club at luncheon.

At the afternoon session J. Smith Damron will present "The Potter and the Clay" in a splendid lesson on character building. An expert with his old fashioned potter's turning wheel, he makes several vessels of clay in full view of the audience.

Mr. Damron will exhibit specimens of American art pottery and White House china. His samples of the President Wilson design are the only ones to appear on an American platform.

All charter members and others are asked to make luncheon reservations with Mrs. Dickson (Red 68) for this day.

The Public Welfare Legislation section, of which Mrs. W. J. Lawless is chairman, met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. S. Corlett, 65 East Mira Monte avenue. Members present each represented a director of the California administration and reviewed reports given at the Governor's council in February.

Among those who took part in the program and discussion that followed were Mrs. A. A. Halsey, representing Finance; Mrs. W. F. Thayer Sr., Public Health; Mrs. J. C. Dickson, Veterans' Welfare; Mrs. A. F. Snell, Public Works and Natural Resources; Mrs. J. E. Woehler, Industrial Relations, and Mrs. Corlett, State Welfare Department. Mrs. Leuchas substituted for Mrs. Nestor A. Young, whose subject was State Institutions. Tea was served by the hostess.

A garden adorned with rose-covered gate and fence was the stage setting for a delightful dance and card party given by the club on Saturday night. The event, which was attended by one hundred guests, was in charge of Mrs. W. S. Hull.

Bridge prizes went to Mrs. W. J. Lawless and John F. Brain. Eight couples from the class of Miss Marquita Klass presented different styles of dancing.

Mrs. R. S. Corlett and Mrs. E. D. Burbank were in charge of bridge, and Mrs. R. M. Finlayson of the decorations. Refreshments were served by Mrs. E. E. Bacon.

A picnic luncheon and a visit to the new art gallery at Laguna Beach were enjoyed on Thursday of last week by members from art sections of women's clubs of the entire district. The hundred clubwomen were the guests of Mrs. Nell Brooker Mayhew, district chairman of art. A number of private studios were visited during the day.

Attending from here were Mrs. Fred Griebow, chairman of art of the Sierra Madre Club, and originator of the movement for a Little Art Gallery in this city, Mrs. Lola Borradaile, Dr. May Laidlaw, Miss Leah Fletcher and Miss Clara Larjar.

Mrs. John H. Robertson will be one of the hostess presidents at the bridge tea to be held at district headquarters, 2103 South Hobart boulevard, May 15, at 2 p.m. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Robertson by those desiring to attend. Admission is 50 cents.

The state convention of women's clubs will be held at Oakland on May 14, 15 and 16.

Mrs. Robertson, president, and Laura E. Cadmus, chairman of press and publicity, attended the press luncheon at district headquarters on Wednesday.

Electricity Does Ironing

About 14,500,000 electric flat irons are now smoothing out the wrinkles in American homes, while nearly 6,000,000 vacuum cleaners are making those same homes more cleanly, according to figures recently made public.

HOME COUNTY LEADS IN CITRUS CROPS FOR RECORD YEAR, 1929

LOS Angeles county made an amazing record in the crop output last year, maintaining the leadership in Southern California as well as Nationally, with soil products valued at $68,755,023, which with livestock products gave the county a total of $82,000,000, according to the latest figures compiled by the Agricultural Department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Southern California's return from ten counties totaled $268,061,266, an increase of fifteen millions over the preceding year. Orange county ranked second with products returning $41,323,000.

The southern counties had 1,901,650 acres in crop. This is compared with 1,873,294 acres in 1928 and 1,747,653 in 1927. Citrus fruits continue to be the principal income crop. The orange crop was valued at $31,328,631, a slight reduction from the previous season. Lemons brought in $26,374,875 and grapefruit $2,547,417, making the total income for citrus fruits $110,250,923.

Less Interest in Wedlock

THE "gin marriage license law" is not entirely responsible for a comparative decrease in the number of marriages in Los Angeles county since 1923, for the law requiring three days' notice of marriage did not become effective until 1927. The number of licenses issued has not kept step with the great increase in population. In 1920 5452 licenses were issued and in 1929 there were 19,650, but in 1920, when the population was very much smaller than in '29 the number was 11,514. Beginning in '23 the comparative decrease was noticeable and since 1927 it has been marked.

Tips to Motorists

The Superior Court says that if you smoke at a filling station while you are getting gas, you are liable for damages if a fire is started. One station owner won an $11,000 verdict against a patron whose cigarette caused an explosion.

Excellent trout fishing is reported in the High Sierra district at Bishop Creek, Sabrina and North Lakes, according to the touring department of the National Automobile club. The fish are very good size and there are several varieties of trout—Tahoe, Rainbow, Eastern Brook and Golden.

An oil leak around any part of the engine of your car should be stopped at once. The loss of oil may not be expensive, but the damage that may result through lack of oil is often far in excess of the cost of stopping the leak.

Lawyers are the wettest and school teachers the driest of the professional groups, says the Literary Digest's special classified poll. A majority of clergymen are for prohibition, but 34 per cent favor repeal. One half of the physicians voted for repeal. Out of 85,000 bankers, 35,000 favored enforcement, the others repeal or modification.

The most common causes of overheating of a car are lack of water, clogged radiator, lack of oil or a broken fan belt.

If you paint the core of the radiator of your car, never use a heavy paint. To do so cuts off the needed air supply, thereby reducing the cooling effect.

Construction work is under way on the new La Canada-Mt. Wilson road and at the present time rough grading is under way on one and one-half miles of this road.

AMBULANCE SERVICE

DOES PROHIBITION DESERVE TO SUCCEED?

PROHIBITION, in the words of President Hoover, is a "Noble Experiment" which he wishes to see succeed. There are many who agree with him... many who are undecided... many doubtful.

To all, The Christian Science Monitor will address its special series on Prohibition and all will receive a hearing. The series will bring together in a friendly, persuasive way the benefits of ten years of prohibition... up-to-date arguments for it from every standpoint... well-authenticated refutations of many false statements.

The articles will appear in twenty issues, starting May 5 and ending June 14. Subscriptions for this six weeks' period are offered for $1.

Mrs. J. F. Myers, who has just returned from Honolulu, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Cox.

Mrs. Tom Tyler spent Sunday with her aunt, Miss Boyce in Hollywood.

Rosemary Miller and Marguerite attended a Girl Scout meeting and dinner in Pasadena Tuesday.

Mrs. A. E. O'Banion and daughter Lorraine spent Sunday at Orange with her sister, Mrs. Syes-ter.

Walter Poehler, Fred W. Richter and Mr. Todd drove to Durco beyond Bakersfield, Sunday to look at some oil property.

William McCreary went fishing. He came home truthfully without any fish for three good reasons: the fish weren't hungry, too much water, muddy water—alibi enuff!

Mrs. Vinnie Smith and Mrs. Elizabeth Stockton arrived this week from Meadville, Pa., to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wheeling.

F. H. Hartman and son, R. R. Hartman, attended the Rexall drug dealers convention Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ambassador Hotel, Los Angeles.

Tom Tyler really believed Col. Hersey's prediction of "fairweather" for last week end, when he sprouted a new (?) straw hat the first of the week.

Doubtless following the adage that clothes make the policeman, Chief Gordon McMillan is sporting a new uniform this week. We congratulate the chief on this personal as well as civic triumph.

R. C. Copenhaver, J. M. Campbell and Bob Davies attended the monthly meeting of the associated Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening at West Covina.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Camp, of Berkeley, Calif., left for their home in the north on Monday, attending the week with Mr. Camp's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Camp of 615 West Montecito avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hartman and sons, with Mrs. Hartman's aunt, Mrs. F. G. Burto of Tacoma, motored to San Diego Sunday. They visited the zoo, North Island, and the boys enjoyed a visit to the U. S. S. Omaha.

Dr. Edythe M. Dutcher and Mrs. M. R. MacDowell attended a luncheon Monday, given by Mrs. M. E. Stetman, of Park View, Los Angeles, in honor of her daughter, Yolande Stetman Haines, who has come from Denver to spend a few months in Southern California.

Mrs. D. W. Alsdorf, of Little Valley, New York, and Mrs. William Stevenson, of Chicago, were guests of Mrs. M. R. MacDowell Tuesday. They have been spending the winter in Long Beach and Pasadena, and expect to return again in the fall.

The regular monthly meeting of the Men's Community Club will be held next Thursday night at 7:30 in the parlors of the Congregational Church. This month's event will be an informal stag affair, with a guaranteed good time and refreshments, to which all men of the church and community are cordially invited.

Lester H. Fennel, student in the College of Agriculture at U. of C. at Berkeley, has returned home for the summer vacation. Mr. Fennel, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. E. H. Fennel and Miss Theresa Eberle, expect to motor to the Yosemite and visit the bay cities and Carmel-by-the-Sea, starting next Wednesday, May 14th, to be gone two weeks.

Mrs. Blanche D. Linhart, of 4946 Marathon Street, Los Angeles, owner of the beautiful estate at Grandview, East Laurel and the Canyon, visited friends while here on a business trip yesterday. She is anxious to take up her residence in Sierra Madre again. Mrs. Linhart is a former Pittsburgher, her family being prominent there. So the Editor enjoyed a chat with her.

32.5 KILLED OUT OF EVERY 10,000 IN 78 CITIES BY AUTOS

AUTOMOBILES are taking a frightful toll in human lives, according to the latest figures compiled by the Bureau of the Census. For the year ending March 30, 1930, there were 378 more fatalities than in the preceding year. In New York the automobile claimed more victims than typhoid fever, measles, scarlet fever, diphtheria, whooping cough and epidemic meningitis combined, the greatest number of victims being between five and nine years old. November saw deaths averaging 32.5 out of every 100,000 population in a total of 78 cities, comprising one-third the population of the entire country.

Children to Exhibit Work, Act as Hosts

Parents and children are cordially invited to attend an exhibit of scrap-books made by pupils of Mrs. Florence Eakman, children's author and playwright, on Saturday afternoon, May 10th, from two to four, at Rikeman's stationery store.

Sixteen children will act individually as hosts and hostesses for fifteen minute periods each. Surprising creative ability is shown by some of the children. The following poem, written by Harold Shippey, ten year old son of Lee Shippey, is submitted as an example:

"Bow-wow-wow!" said big dog Tim
"Do you want to fight?"
He barked at Jim.
"No-no-no!" barked little dog Jim
And he wagged his tail
At big old Tim.

LOCAL DELEGATES FOR CLAREMONT MEETING

An important religious event is the forty-fourth annual meeting of the Southern California Congregational Conference to be held May 12 to 14 at the Claremont Congregational church at Claremont. Rev. A. O. Pritchard and about a dozen others will attend from Sierra Madre, the local church having three voting delegates.

Of special interest in this conference are the worthwhile discussion groups led by capable and inspiring church leaders.

You Can Help Make Sierra Madre More Neighborly Town

In its business of being a community newspaper and of keeping its readers informed of the goings and comings of their friends and neighbors and of the town happenings, THE NEWS has had occasion to use a surprisingly large number of names since its first issue in March. In the issue of March 7 the names of 699 individuals appeared, on March 14 there was occasion to mention 580 persons, and 661 on March 21. In the final issue of March the number was 701. In the issues of April 4, 11, 18 and 25 the number of names appearing was 609, 498, 660 and 641 respectively, and in the first issue of this month, May 2, the number was 538.

Every reader can help immeasurably to make THE NEWS all that they can wish for in the way of a community newspaper by co-operating in the gathering of news of friendly interest—of the happenings they know about.

Call THE NEWS (Main 260) when you know or hear of anything that interests you. Its publication will interest others. Or take time to drop a line. Everyone—and especially THE NEWS—will appreciate it and Sierra Madre will be an even more friendly city.

Lawless, Mrs. Charles Collins, Mrs. F. H. Hartman, Miss Fuller, Miss Rosemary Miller and Miss Minnie Fitch have our heartfelt thanks as well as Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Conard, Mrs. Pegler, who contributed lilies, and Mrs. M. D. Welscher, for her beautiful flowers.

Sold Wistaria Plants

Posters and signs at the grounds were made by Miss Charlotte Butler. Art work of press book, coolie coats and badges was done by Mrs. Homer B. Tuttle. Free transportation to workers was furnished by H. A. Scott of the taxi service, and all of these contributions toward the success of the Fete were important and we are most grateful for them.

Mrs. A. A. Halsey announces many extra pilots supplied by the Kiwanis club for garden tours, which were taken by more than 1000 persons, and splendid co-operation among townspeople for pilots. Most of the wistaria plants sold at the garden booth were grown from seed by Mrs. D. F. Morton and Mrs. C. J. Pegler. Garden hostesses during the Fete were Mesdames John H. Osgood, J. M. Campbell, W. F. Thayer Sr., Mary H. Gay, Elmer A. Green, W. J. Lawless, K. R. Hinton, R. S. Corlett, Frederic F. Ackley and Miss H. Herloff.

Appreciation is expressed to W. R. Humphries for time given so freely for various activities of the Fete; L. R. Goshorn for his special Wistaria Fete rotogravure section of the SIERRA MADRE NEWS; Charles B. Klunk and Kiwanians, who gave free taxi service; Sam Mercer for indispensable services; the City of Sierra Madre for splendid co-operation, and all others offering assistance.

Conference Here Grows in Importance

Many Noted Persons from Afar Attend Bible Session at Bethany

ATTENDANCE IS RECORD

Many visitors from all sections of Southern California attended the six sessions of the Sixth Annual Bible Conference in Bethany Church on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 6 and 7, among them being the Rev. and Mrs. Osborne of Santa Monica, Mr. and Mrs. Needham of Glendora, Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Percival, of Pasadena, Mrs. R. G. Haskell, of Hermosa Beach; Mr. Irvine and daughter of Long Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Whitwell of Los Angeles. Many others were present from Whittier, Pico, Eagle Rock, Hollywood, Monrovia, Arcadia, and a number of other valley and coastal cities.

The conference was outstanding for its inspirational speakers. Heading the list was Rev. D. F. Noel Palmer, of Toronto. A giant physically as well as intellectually—he stands six feet six—Dr. Palmer brought a vital message to all who heard him.

Other speakers who maintained the high standard set by Dr. Palmer were Rev. Marshall Morsey, of Eagle Rock; Mrs. R. Nielson Muir, of South Africa; Rev. Thomas Moseley, of Tibet, and Mrs. Florence Nye Whitwell, Rev. W. C. White, Mrs. F. W. Philpott, Mrs. Edward S. Goodner and Miss Mabel Culter, all of Los Angeles.

Mrs. John Lowe, president of the Bethany Missionary Society, under whose auspices the conference was held, delivered the opening address and presided at all the sessions. Mrs. Robert Harkness, soloist of the day sessions, added charm to the conference by singing compositions from the pen of her husband, well known in financial circles. Roy F. Stevens was soloist at the evening sessions and was assisted on Tuesday evening by a quartet from Pasadena.

The Society was host to 150 guests at both Tuesday's and Wednesday's luncheons.

Every year the conferences are assuming more importance in the religious life of Sierra Madre and at the same time proving a strong attraction to people all over the Southland.

The California State Department of Education announced, following intelligence and accomplishment tests made in junior colleges, that the female of the species may be more deadly than the male, but the male is more intelligent. The test, conducted by Professor Walter C. Eells, of Stanford, showed an average score of 138 for men, as compared to 136.8 for women.

GIRLS IN FISHING CONTEST

Contrary to the general opinion that fly casting and trout fishing are sports designed solely for masculinity, a fly casting tournament staged exclusively for members of the gentler sex, was an outstanding feature of the opening of the trout season May 1st at Big Pines camp. Many of the fair contestants made some very creditable records.

Dr. Gilbert S. Bovard returned home Saturday to 159 West Montecito, a year to the day from the time he left for the hospital. He is much improved, but necessarily has to be kept quiet with no visitors for a month.

45,610 CARS PASS ONE LOS ANGELES CORNER

Rivalling the traffic arteries of New York, Chicago and Detroit, a check of the number of motor cars passing the intersection of Sunset Boulevard at Vine street, Los Angeles, shows that on a twenty-four hour basis a high mark of 45,610 has been reached, according to a check made recently by the Sunset Improvement Association.

This compares with the great street traffic corners of the world. Latest figures show that Park Avenue at Fifty-seventh street in New York has a 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. traffic flow of 42,377 and Woodward avenue at Grand Boulevard in Detroit, 40,373, from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m.; Upper Wacker Drive at Michigan bridge in Chicago has 62,459.
